

October 17 and 18 have been named as Climate Action Days by The Australian Religious Response to Climate Change Group (ARRCC) which is affiliated with GreenFaith.

There is a great deal of information on their website www.ARRCC.org.au urging faith groups to plan an action , perhaps a vigil, at their place of worship for October 17, and then join a peaceful demonstration in Hobart on October 18.

A vigil will be held in the Peace Garden at the Friends Meeting House at 11.30 am on October 17.

At 8am on Monday October 18 there will be a gathering outside St David's Cathedral which will display banners, and peacefully draw attention to the Climate Emergency.

Please let people know and be there if you can. All people of all faiths are invited to attend these events, or to organise something at their place of worship on Sunday 17th.

We are also invited to take photos and post them on the AARRCC website.

Prior to these the School's Climate Action will take place on Friday October 15 and those who would like can rally to support school students in their action.

Grace and peace
